

Residential Real Estate

School year 2009/2010

Welcome to Akelius University

Akelius University offers a one year MBA education within real estate management. The purpose is to provide the current knowledge required for a position as a manager or as a Board member in a real estate management company.

Studies are practical in focus. For the educational material and case studies, we use real case studies, real economic reports and prospectus.

You will improve your English. All education, group work, reports and presentations are held in English.

You will improve your presentation technique. During every educational workshop session, you will be required to give a presentation in English. Furthermore, you will receive training in presentation technique.

You will develop an excellent network for the future. All of our students are well educated and have experience from residential real estate companies. During the course you will develop friendships and relationships for life.

You will visit several other countries. The previous school year, course workshops were held in Cyprus, the USA, Sweden and Germany.

Between the training sessions you will carry out self study and you will perform tests on-line via the internet.

You can receive a scholarship from Akelius University Foundation. Several students will receive a scholarship amounting to over fifty percent of the course fees. Fill in a preliminary application to see what level of scholarship you are entitled to.

Your application is welcomed.

Personal network

During the course, you will get to know other well educated, successful people within the real estate industry.

Become friends with the real estate's elite

During the previous course, a valuable network was established with senior managers and leaders within the retail industry, even during social networking and relaxation events. The participants drove snow-scooters to an island 40 kilometers from Haparanda, relaxed in a midnight sauna and cooled off with a swim in a hole in the ice, they sang karaoke in Cyprus, played golf in Florida.

Most of the group didn't speak Swedish; you socialize in English of course.

Every year we arrange a student re-union where you have the chance to meet your old classmates together with other students who have graduated the course.

Students as lecturers

Presentation technique is an essential part of your MBA education, and you will improve with practice.

Prior to every training week, you will write a report in English. Your report will address a topic in which you have knowledge and experience. During every training session, all students are required to deliver a presentation of their topic. All reports and presentations are performed in English.

During the training week in the USA, you will receive intensive training in presentation technique by trainers from Dale Carnegie. A lot of exertion and adrenalin, but also a lot of laughs are promised.

Four grade levels

Akelius University has four levels of grade: Pass, Cum Laude, Magna Cum Laude and Summa Cum Laude.

Half of the students each year are expected to reach Cum Laude, approximately 40 percent are expected to reach Magna Cum Laude. Those 10 percent who are the absolute best will achieve Summa Cum Laude. There is even a lower grade level, called Pass.

The examination is divided into different steps:

Scholarships worth a million for the coming school year

For the school year 2009/2010, five candidates will receive 100,000 SEK each, nine candidates will receive 90,000 SEK, 80,000 SEK, 70,000 SEK etcetera.

Roger Akelius has donated one billion SEK to the Akelius University Foundation for scholarships. It takes many years to establish an international elite university for property managers, since the value of the education is determined by how well the students succeed in the years after the course. This is the reason why we will provide scholarships for the first five years to those who have already succeeded in their careers within real estate.

What do I need to do to receive a scholarship?

Fill out the preliminary application found on the homepage, <http://university.akelius.de>. Describe your education and your experience. The more you are able to contribute to the education the better chance you have of receiving a larger scholarship.

Admission to the university takes place continually. The earlier you apply the better the opportunity you have of receiving a larger scholarship.
